Sustainable Food for the Globe, One Square Foot at a Time came about in the strangest way. In August of 2012, there were two news items that caught my attention. The first was a challenge made by a group calling themselves The B Team. The statement was made that business as usual is currently not working, nor taking care of the needs of the people in our planet. The challenge - that now is the time to modify our mindsets and take a look at what each individual can change to bring about a stronger, richer and more abundant Global community. Secondly, during that same time period, there were lots of comments made by so-called experts, stating that the world would run out of food by the year 2050. What a paradox, on the one hand, a group of invigorated people ready to take a challenge and create a better world; and on the other hand nay-sayers stating that humankind would expire in less than 37 years due to mass starvation. As a gardener, both news items drew...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
