They are generally peaceable and industrious, and perhaps-in no place of this kingdom do fewer breaches of the public peace take place; it is even rare to find any person in this county prison, for a capital offence, and no capital conviction has taken place here since 1772. Between the members of the different religious sedts, the inmost harmony always prevails; a striking proof of which is, that several sums have been granted at vestry towards repairs of the presbyterian meetinghouse, the clerk of which is also paid out of the parish cess. In short, no where in this kingdom are religious or political distinctions less known; in 1798 and some years preceding, when party distinctions ran high in most places, fewer excesses were committed within this district than, perhaps, in any other place in Ireland. On the whole they are very liberal in both political and religious Sentiments, and are, a valuable part of the community; but one must estimate their worth as a miner does his ore, rather by its weight than its splendor. They are not much given to convivial parties, the chief one at present, is called the coterie; its members meet occasionally in a large room of the county of Antrim court-house (54) Preabyterian loyalty (55). From tradition of old inhabitant. court-house. A musical society belonging to the town, meet in same place twice a week for practice. This society is composed of all...
