Tis you must tend the flocks this morn, And scare the small birds from the corn. Not a soul at home may stay: For the shepherds must go With lance and bow To hunt the wolf in the woods today. Leave the hearth and leave the house To the cricket and the mouse: Find Grandam out a sunny seat, With babe and lambkin at her feet. Not a soul at home may stay: For the shepherds must go With lance and bow To hunt the wolf in the woods today. Then the lad is off, and the girl in pantomime places a chair for the hobbling grandam, tenderly puts a doll into the old womans arms and is gone. If children are studying Greek sculpture, they play a game of posing as this or that statue for their fellows to guess. If fifth grade pupils are reading about Vikings, they cut the description from one of the most dramatic stories, so throwing it into dialogue, and read it orally. An eighth grade reads Julius Caesar and acts scenes of it in a corner of the room. An older class studies As You Like It and gives it out of doors in well planned costume. A sixth grade girl makes a fairy play and gets together a group of children, who rehearse it by themselves after school, and play it for their classmates. A grade together work out...
